

Mayor Sees Town Made Goat In Deal

1934, the city has received about $92,000 in liquor rebates.

COUNCILMAN Robert Adkins declared that "the state's move must be answered in full. It is time that we find out whose linen actually is dirty."

State liquor chiefs claim Circleville Police Chief William McCrady refused to accompany state investigators on a raid here early in November.

Chief McCrady, repeating a statement made numerous times since Circleville's "shakedown" expose broke, declared frankly that he did not go on the raid and did not because he "wanted no part of a squeeze."

Thursday, it was evident that Circleville would keep its date with the state liquor board in the squabble.

One spokesman declared that "this is the dying gasp of the lame duck." Another declared: "I'll wager there will be a delay in the scheduled Jan. 6 hearing. The administration changes that week and the incoming crew will be tossed this hot potato."

The whole affair has been boiling since last city council meeting when four state liquor department aides complained to Circleville solons that Chief McCrady refused to accompany them on a raid on the Moose Lodge.

McCrady's attorneys, Joe Adkins and Emmitt Crist, openly admitted the chief of police did not accompany the liquor men on the raid.

It was then that guns were turned on the state. Local accusations were hurled to the effect that bribes had been demanded here for "protection" against raids.

A total of $1,800 was sought by a "contact man" between four local clubs and the state department. The attorneys said the demanded money was not paid.

The case simmered last week, apparently died over the weekend.

Wednesday, however, state officials ordered city officials here to show cause why the city's share of liquor taxes should not be withheld.

At the same time, the local Moose Lodge was ordered to appear before board concerning revocation of its liquor permit.

Moose spokesmen say the permit twice has been returned to the board, that it has not been out of the board's hands more than two days since it first was returned to the board Nov. 7.

weakness and British unpreparedness."

In retrospect, these documents might appear unimportant. But, even if they told Moscow little that it did not know before, subsequent reaction in Washington must have made clear to them the inability of the United States to engage in direct action.

Two days after the Bullitt message arrived, Secretary of State Cordell Hull called in the German Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff and gave him a lecture on international law. He told the round German envoy that "the supreme issue of the time" was whether the principles of international order or those of "force militarism and aggression" should prevail.

Hull proposed a "solid foundation of economic readjustment" as the solution to world ills. On March 13 Hitler seized Austria. The reports on Czechoslovakia apparently were even more prophetic.

During the six months elapsed between the March 30 message from Wilson and the Munich Pact of Sept. 29, the United States made urgent appeals for peace but made no commitments to join in any fray which might follow.

Hull talked to Dieckhoff along the same lines as before. President Roosevelt appealed to all parties concerned, excepting Russia.

Moscow, though committed by treaty to come to the defense of Czechoslovakia, refused to give the other powers any direct commitment on what she would do to implement this pledge. France, without these assurances, backed down.

Only history will show to how great an extent access to United States secret documents in those days influenced the Soviet policy which ultimately led to the 1939-41 Soviet-Nazi alliance.

Music War Ends In Holiday Mood: HST Honored

NEW YORK, Dec. 16—Musicians and recording companies, in a holiday mood, celebrated the ending of the year-long record-making drought today with new transcriptions.

Major companies began recording new hit songs, and some hoped to rush the discs to music stores in time for the Christmas trade.

The ban lasted 11-1/2 months and was lifted with signing of a new five-year contract calling for administration of a union welfare fund.

The fund, accruing from royalties, is expected to amount to some $2,000,000 a year. It will be used for hiring jobless musicians to give free concerts and will be directed by a $25,000-a-year impartial trustee, Samuel R. Rosenbaum of Philadelphia.

One of the first recordings, a non-commercial one, was out as a testimonial to President Truman at RCA-Victor under direction of Petrillo and David Sarnoff, RCA-Victor president.

DEDICATED To "a fellow musician," the disc was "I'm Just Wild About Harry."

The distinction of making the first post-ban record went to Humorist Arthur Godfrey, who cut "Little Guy" for Columbia records.

Businessman Has Good Gripe

BOSTON, Dec. 16—When a businessman can't see the customers coming in—that's bad.

This was the position taken in a court action here today by Samuel Werenick, owner of a Chicopee Falls theatre, who wants the next-door barber shop painted some other color but its present white.

Werenick complained that when the sun shines on the white barber shop, the reflection makes it difficult for him to see patrons entering his theatre.

Inhalator Aids Revival Of Man

A 74-year-old Pickaway County man probably owes his life to the quick action of Circleville firemen.

He is Hiram Conrad of Circleville Route 4, who suffered a heart attack in his home late Wednesday night.

After all efforts at reviving him by the attending physician had failed, firemen were summoned to give aid with the department's inhalator.

They worked over Conrad for nearly a half hour before he was revived sufficiently to be removed to Berger hospital. He was taken to the hospital by the Deffenbaugh Ambulance.

Conrad was listed in "poor" condition in the hospital Thursday noon.

HAVANA, Dec. 16—Former Cuban President Ramon Grau San Martin challenged Representative Felix Martin to a duel today over an alleged remark on San Martin's family.

Seconds of the two men were expected to meet today to discuss the ex-president's demand for a retraction or a duel.

The congressman reportedly declared that very close relatives of San Martin were involved in "scandals" during his administration.

Mundt promised that the House group will not subpoena any witnesses whose testimony, in the opinion of the Justice Department, would interfere with the prosecution of Hiss.

This represents a change from the acrimonious feelings between the committee and the Justice Department prevalent earlier in the spy case.

Numerous secondary roads also were reported closed in the southeast portion of the state with the balance of highways reported wet but passable.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reported that a heavy fog which gripped the northern half of the state also was lifted by the incoming air mass.

Reward Posted For Man's Slayer

COLUMBUS, Dec. 16—A $1,000 reward was posted today for the murderer who six months ago killed Sheldon Grube, a young farmhand who was found dying under a tractor on a farm near Groveport.

The reward was offered by the youth's parents, Ernest and Cloe Grube, for "the arrest and conviction" of the slayer.

The coroner's office ruled the death a homicide resulting from "almost a lethal dose of chloral hydrate." The reward offer stated the youth died of monoxide poisoning after being drugged.

Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil, NO harmful drugs, NO dope, is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments—highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hippocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results
MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, Arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals
YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous waters. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thionin in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Import Of Bloodmobile Cited By Local Chairman

A new word will be added to the next edition of standard English dictionaries. The word, "Bloodmobile," was coined by officials of the American Red Cross to designate the truck which will carry equipment to receive donations of blood from people throughout the nation.

Monday the Bloodmobile will be brought to Circleville by the Pickaway County chapter which is participating in the National Blood Program of the American Red Cross.

Considered by many as one of the most far-reaching Red Cross peacetime projects, the National Blood Program is expected to cover the nation within a five-year period. The objective of the program is to supply whole blood and various blood derivatives, including plasma, to anyone who needs it without cost for the blood. However, there may be the customary laboratory charge by the hospital and the professional fee of the physician.

Karl Johnson, recently appointed chairman of the local chapter's blood committee, described the National Blood Program as a "community opportunity and responsibility."

"During World War II, he said, 'we learned the great value of blood and blood derivatives. During the early years of the war many important discoveries were made which have tremendous implications for peacetime.'"

"THESE DISCOVERIES include the preservation of whole blood which made it possible to store the blood for a period of three weeks. Because man has learned to store blood and to fractionate it, he has learned many additional uses for it."

Johnson pointed out that the need for blood has always been acute and that most families could not afford the prices charged.

"For example, a little girl in California has a rare type of blood which was expensive. She also had a serious illness which required blood transfusions over a long period at frequent intervals. The girl's family would have had to pay about $3,000 for the blood which she received. Fortunately the Red Cross was able to furnish the blood without cost."

Under the Red Cross National Blood Program, blood will be donated by citizens throughout the nation at fixed centers or during Bloodmobile visits to outlying communities.

All mobile units operate from a fixed center and cover communities within a 70-mile radius of the center. Blood collected by the mobile units is taken to the fixed centers in special refrigerated containers and there it is typed, analyzed, and processed.

A supply of whole blood, sufficient to meet all needs, is returned to the community for use within the hospitals. Any remaining supply is made into plasma or other derivatives. A small portion goes to scientists to be used for continued research.

Johnson stressed the fact that donating blood was a simple procedure. Only 30 minutes of time is required. All healthy men or between the ages of 18 and 60 are eligible to donate if they weigh at least 110 pounds. Tests are given by the doctors and nurses who staff the fixed blood center and travel with the Bloodmobile.

Cornett Fails To Beat Chair

COLUMBUS, Dec. 16—Ova B. Cornett, 47, of Cincinnati, must die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair Jan. 14 for talking his nephew into the brutal murder of an aged and crippled cafe owner.

The nephew, Elmer Curnutt, 21, was electrocuted July 16 for the same crime. The supreme court today refused to consider the uncle's appeal.

The two were convicted of the murder of Thomas Wilson, 80-year-old cafe owner. Elmer blackjacked the old man as he bent over a beer case, beat him into unconsciousness, and then stabbed him 32 times with an ice pick. The robbery netted only $225.

In New England, where dairying predominates, the average size of a farm is 100 acres. In the corn and hog belt of the Middle West it is 160 acres; in the cotton belt, 80; and in the wheat fields of the Great Plains, it is 400 acres.

NEW CZECHOSLOVAKIA

THE familiar Communist pattern is coming into view in Czechoslovakia as the interweaving of its political and economic life with that of Soviet Russia proceeds.

The list of offenses against the state is growing to a point where it seems that even the people's thoughts are to be brought under control. Any evidence of wrong thinking from the Communist viewpoint is punishable, and this policy extends to priests and monks, who may be tried for sedition if they utter improper ideas.

The eventual union of the Czech economy and the Russian is being speeded up, with emphasis upon heavy industry. Foreign trade is almost solely with Russia.

Within the space of a year, living standards have deteriorated greatly, with consumer-goods shortages and poverty among the people, who previously had reached nearly a pre-war standard of prosperity.

The little republic which was formed with such high hopes after the first world war has come to a sad end. Czech well-wishers in the United States can only hope that the eclipse will prove to be temporary, and that Soviet oppression will be of short duration. Or is this merely wishful thinking?

LIVING TO BE 100

THERE are as many recipes for living to be 100 as there have been persons who attained that age. The latest to break into print by that means is Francesco La Sala, an Italian-born New Yorker, who said his prescription is this: "Setting-up exercises, home-made wine, big black cigars and playing cards all night."

Not everyone could follow that advice and live to be 50, much less 100. But on some of the more conservative schedules of life a man such as Mr. La Sala might have gone to an early grave. There are some who say that vigorous work is the way to extend life, but anyone with a weakened heart would raise a hand in restrained but horrified protest.

Probably there is one element which is common in the histories of the centenarians. Not many of them spent any important part of the energy of their productive years in worrying about ways to attain long life.

EVENT OF 1932

THE most important event of 1932, a scientist has said in a popular lecture, was not the presidential election or any other happening familiar to newspaper readers of that year, but the discovery of neutrons by the English physicist, Sir James Chadwick. Do not ask for a definition of neutrons, but take it as an accepted truth that without knowledge of them the atom would never have been split, with all the incalculable consequences.

What will future historians think was the most important event of 1948?

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Again, again and again, it must be said that neither Whittaker Chambers nor Alger Hiss nor Donald Hiss nor any unpalatable State Department official who passed documents to agents of foreign countries is really important. The questions at issue are:

1. Why was the State Department so badly organized that the national security was imperiled?
2. Why were Communists employed in so "sensitive" a part of the government as the State Department?
3. Why were they employed during the Hitler-Stalin alliance when both Soviet Russia and Nazi Germany were attacking the United States?
4. Why were no efforts made to investigate the seriousness of the problem when Whittaker Chambers and Isaac Don Levine reported what is now known to be true of Adolf A. Berle Jr. then undersecretary of state?
5. Why was hardly anything done by the State and Justice Departments to protect themselves after the Amerasia case, when it was found that State Department documents were in the possession of a magazine known to be pro-Russian (1945)?
6. Why was the report of the Dies Committee made to the Department of Justice in 1941 setting forth the details of the Harold Ware Communist cell—now known to be true—ridiculed by Attorney General Biddle?
7. Why does the President of the United States shield the traitors by refusing to permit the FBI or any other agency of government to cooperate with Congress in the investigation of espionage and treachery?
8. Why does the President seek to divert public attention from great crimes against the American nation by repeating his "red herring" silliness?
9. Why does the Department of Justice make it tough for the spy that turned state's evidence, but deals with softness toward those who must be responsible for documents that were entrusted to them?
10. Why has the government of the United States ignored the Canadian blue book?
11. Why did our government give aid and comfort to Chinese Communists, ridiculing Pat Hurley, our ambassador to China, trying through "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell and George Marshall to force Chiang Kai-Shek to accept the Communists as associates?
12. Is it true that this country encouraged Neville Chamberlain to make his Munich deal with Hitler? What was the consideration? Is it true that at least one of the Chambers documents deals with this?
13. Is it true that Prince Konoye tried to prevent war between the United States and Japan on terms that should have been acceptable to the United States, and that we rejected his offer?
14. Is it true that at the Cairo Conference we guaranteed the return of all Chinese territory to China that Japan had seized, and at the Yalta Conference, 15 months later, we agreed to Russia seizing the same territory—and for no consideration?
15. Why was JCS 1067 issued and carried through in spite of the fact that we already knew that we had lost World War II to Soviet Russia and that we needed—as we now acknowledge—Germany as a barrier against Russian conquest of Europe?

An English museum has just been given a sixteenth century church coffer which needed five different keys, presumably carried by five different wardens, to open its lock. Too bad someone didn't think of putting that kind of lock on the Berlin city hall.

Intestinal Tuberculosis Cure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FROM the medical point of view we are truly living in a wonderful age. Take, for example, the new drugs we now have available—the antibiotics, such as streptomycin. It has been found that streptomycin is helpful in the treatment of certain cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Recently, it has been tried in patients with tuberculosis of the intestines with hopeful results.

With the passing of time, it has been noted that this drug, when given by injection into a muscle, is in part eliminated through the intestine. The drug may be administered by mouth in cases of bowel tuberculosis, because the drug is not affected by the stomach secretion, nor is it absorbed to any great extent from the bowel, so that it can act on germs in the bowel. The treatment also may be carried out by giving the streptomycin in the form of an injection into the lower intestine.

Proper Amount

Dr. N. Markoff, of Switzerland, has treated patients with tuberculosis of the bowel by an enema of the streptomycin solution. The proper amount of streptomycin is dissolved in about a pint of salt solution. The injections were given daily for 14 to 15 days. All of the patients also received injections of the streptomycin into a muscle. Just which type of treatment should be used in any case of intestinal tuberculosis depends upon the part of the bowel affected.

Two effects of the treatment were noted in the intestinal tuberculosis. First, there is improvement in the general condition, a decrease in fever, and better appetite. Secondly, there is an effect on the ulcers in the bowel, which are produced by the tubercular infection. These ulcers seem to heal and the symptoms due to the ulcers disappear. Blockage of the bowel due to the irritation produced by the ulcers, and diarrhea, which is often present, also clear up, and the patient often regains normal bowel habits.

Causes No Reactions

The treatment causes no reactions or noticeable after-effects. After a few days of treatment, the patients, as a rule, showed striking improvement in their symptoms, and, if their condition improves, this improvement lasts for over a period of six months.

Unfortunately, the treatment has not produced a complete cure in any case. On the other hand, the benefits obtained in relieving symptoms seem to be greater than those produced by any other known form of treatment. Hence, in tubercular bowel infections this treatment with streptomycin is well worth while employing.

Of course, the physician will decide in each instance when the streptomycin should be employed, and in what form it should be administered and over how long a period.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J.R.: What causes excessive gain in weight?
Answer: Excessive gain in weight is usually due to overeating. Edema, or a collection of fluid in the body, is another cause. Rarely is this condition due to a glandular disturbance.

A Navy doctor named Oster up New London way won a reputation for working convalescent sailors harder than they toiled in their regular assignments. When they weren't policing the grounds and mowing lawns, he had them out harvesting hay or slaving in the vegetable patch.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

"DO YOU mean to tell me that, knowing all you know now, all you went through, you would do the same thing over again?" Donna demanded of her mother.

"Why, of course I would! I wouldn't hesitate a minute. The few years of heartache and worry seem almost trivial now, considering all the compensations I had through all the years. Alan is a good man. He has been a good father. He fell short of perfection. Who doesn't? This shock it has been to you, this tragedy for you, is far worse than the hurt to me. This is really terrifying."

"Oh, don't worry, Mother. I'll be all right."

"You don't realize, Donna, that many women make it... very easy... for men."

"Yes, I do. Why not?"

"Without regard for the hearts that may be broken, the homes disrupted?"

"If the devoted husbands and fathers do not consider the plight of their wives and children, why should an outsider? Why should any woman?"

"Have you felt like this since you were sixteen, Donna? That is eight years."

"Yes. As soon as I thought the thing through and made up my mind, I began feeling this way. Oh, I weakened once in a while. I assured myself that Mark was different, he couldn't be that way, just as all fool women have deceived themselves from Eve's sin down to Donna. But always, when I began to waver, something else happened to pull me up short and stiffen my backbone."

"You mean your father—" Mrs. Collwell began faintly, with pale lips.

"Oh, no, not Dad. I dare say he has had plenty of other philanderings, too, but I didn't find out about them. Other things, other people, but always leading straight back to marriage—and condemning it."

"What things, Donna?"

"You're asking for more? Okay. We won't go into the things we read in the papers, or the polls of marital male fidelity, or the VD record of the late unlamented war. We'll take our evidence from right here at home, our own town, our own friends, my crowd. Take Thelma."

"Yes, take Thelma."

"As nice a kid as ever lived. Dead at nineteen."

"Take Nina and Ray. Now it is Ray and Adelaide, the English girl. But he was in love with the English girl when he came home on his first leave and cooked up the divorce with Nina. But he and Nina had been in love since high school. Now—blown skyhigh! Exhibit B. Take Jigger and Mariam. Going in debt every month, borrowing right and left, worried to death about bills. And now chucking everything and everybody they care about and going to some wild place somewhere just so they can cut down the overhead and make both ends meet."

"They are going together though and taking the jug," her mother reminded her.

"In the old days, they both had good jobs and good homes and plenty of money and weren't worried about anything. Marriage is their deficit. Exhibit C. And take Annette, Annette Collwell."

"Annette?"

"Certainly take Annette! Left a widow at twenty-one with a small son, David's son. Her mother can't support her; her mother isn't able to keep David so Annette can get a job again; and she can't do but get married again? Social security. Paul seems a very right guy, but right guys do not always turn out just as right—not when you are married to them. Exhibit D."

Her mother regarded her curiously. "Yet they all have the courage to try it—all except you, Donna. And yet they seem no braver than you."

"They are not braver than I am. They are more cowardly. Marriage is the established, conventional, highly respected avenue for females. They haven't the courage to take a bypath, so they stick to the hazards of the legal highway. Courage!"

"Do you hate your father, Donna?"

"Of course not! Don't be silly. I think he did a beastly thing. According to the best-established rules, most men do. I dare say Dad is much better than the average, certainly I like him better. But personally I'm not going to be stuck with the decision you had to make eight years ago."

"And made wrongly, you think."

"Perhaps. At least I thought so then. I knew I wouldn't take it and I was shocked that you did. Anyhow, it was your decision and I am glad you are satisfied with it. You preserved the home. You preserved the family. You preserved your marriage. O.K. If it was worth it."

"Yes, it was worth it, Donna. It was very well worth it—except for what it has done to you. I hadn't anticipated that. Now I am not so sure."

When Mark reached his office on Friday morning he found a memorandum asking him to call Red Isip and while he waited for the call to be put through he experienced again the sensation of oddly pleasurable anticipation with which he had looked forward to his luncheon appointment with Sammy Ingram. Red on the phone was brisk and businesslike. If possible, he and Sammy particularly wanted Mark to have luncheon with them that day. Mark accepted with gratifying alacrity.

Red explained that Friday was the day he did his "homework," and, if Mark could make it, they could make it, they

ONE MAN'S OPINION

The suggestion of a realistic expense account for Mr. Truman is an interesting post-election note. It now appears he beat Dewey on straight salary.

Currently the President gets $75,000 a year, three cheeses from Wisconsin and nine pounds of butter from Missouri. He has to provide his own eggs.

This year he also won an election, three turkeys, a box of cigars and is now waiting to hear from "Stop The Music."

But there is some question whether the turkeys are capital gain, personal income or just subject to gift tax.

For Christmas dinner, the Trumans will have a choice of a tom or a hen turkey and there is reason to believe that the President never tires of finishing off toms.

MARCH OF EVENTS
Flying Tigers to Fly Against Chinese Reds? U. S. Chinese Policy Unchanged This Winter
Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The Chinese embassy reports that applications are pouring in from aspiring Americans who want to take a crack at the Chinese Communists via Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's famed Flying Tigers.

In fact, some of the applicants apparently are former members or near relatives of Chennault's original group, who are anxious to take up where the first organization left off—only against the Communists instead of the Japanese.

Chennault himself has reported that the Chinese government has not asked him to form another ace flying unit similar to the one which won undying fame in World War II.

However, he also has reportedly said that he will be quite willing to undertake such a task again if the request were forthcoming from the Communist-pressed government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

CHINA POLICY—For all practical purposes the United States policy toward China has been decided. That policy is to continue on the present course through this winter until the Chinese military situation has stabilized—whether for better or for worse.

There is conviction in the administration that regardless of the United States long-range policy aims in the Orient, the situation is so fluid as to render any intensification of aid to the Nationalist government of China impracticable of fulfillment.

of the United States to accomplish the preservation of China. Thus, the United States policy is to let China stand or fall without immediate American intervention beyond the presently scheduled aid.

The time to look for a change in policy is when the Communist forces have paused in their southward march to consolidate and attempt to digest the areas they have captured.

Then the United States may step in with intensified aid to help the Nationalist government—or the government that succeeds it.

REFUGEE HEROES—The Immigration Service is moving full steam ahead to deport 89 Baltic refugees who are lodged on Ellis Island, but the betting in Washington is that President Truman will intervene to save them.

These refugees have a particular appeal since they fled the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania when the Russians marched into those countries and made their way to the United States under the most hazardous circumstances.

They first went to Sweden. There they acquired small boats, 40 to 50 feet long, and in these sailed to the United States. Two such boats reached Boston, two more came in at New York, and others made Philadelphia, Norfolk and Miami. Two boatloads were lost at sea.

POTATO HEADACHE—The Irish potato has been more of a headache to government price supports this year than ever before. Aside from the cost of the price support program which now exceeds 100 million dollars certain irregularities have arisen which disturb officials.

As a result, the government welcomes the drop in the price support level from 90 to 60 per cent for the 1949 crop.

PAY BOOST FOR HST?—If the incoming 81st Congress wants to give President Truman a cost-of-living pay boost—possibly to $100,000 a year—it will have to do so in the few weeks between Jan. 3, when it convenes, and Jan. 20, when he is inaugurated.

This fast action is necessary because of the constitutional ban against Congress from either increasing or cutting a president's pay during a term in office.

Steel Trade Is Leveling Off, Claim

Journal Reports
Caution Develops

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14 — Steel Magazine reports that development of soft spots in the economy is giving rise to increasing caution on the part of steel buyers.

As a result, states Steel, national metalworking trade publication, pressure on the mills shows signs of slight easing, and activity in the conversion of ingot and gray markets is tapering off.

Trade opinion, according to Steel, is that any slackening that may develop in steel over the remaining weeks of the year will be due primarily to seasonal influences, including holiday shutdowns and inventory suspensions.

The magazine said that overall demand continues far in excess of supply.

"Pressure for flat-rolled products, for instance, is unrelieved to any noticeable extent despite the letdown in the home appliance industry, a large consuming outlet for this class of product," said Steel.

THE TRADE publication reported that "more than 500,000 tons of steel are moving monthly on voluntary allocations and indications are this tonnage may be increased over coming months."

"Extension of major voluntary programs beyond the Feb. 28 expiration date of Public Law 395 assures no interruption in the movement of heavy tonnage to most of those industries favored by allocations."

"At the same time it looks as though several additional industries may be granted preference tonnage, and some existing programs may be enlarged substantially, such as railroad cars."

BRYAN, Dec. 16 — The smoking embers of Bryan's largest fire in a quarter of a century were being probed today to determine the cause of a quarter-of-a-million dollar blaze which destroyed the three-story Carroll-Ames Hardware Building, on the public square.

Bryan firefighters had to be aided by departments from West Unity, Archbold, Montpelier and Defiance before they brought the blaze under control after a five-hour fight.

Penney Stores Set Yearly Bonus

The board of directors of the J. C. Penney Company have authorized a special payment of an amount equal to two weeks' pay, for all fulltime associates who have been employed for the full year of 1948 and on a proportionate basis for extra and parttime associates and for those employed less than a year.

Art Marr, manager of the J.C. Penney Company store, said that more than 50,000 Penney associates all over the United States will participate in this payment, including 35 of the Circleville store. He further emphasized that this was not a Christmas bonus in the usual sense and was non-recurring. It was authorized in recognition of the unusual business and economic conditions existing today.

Moviedom Turning To Invalids

Sobs Sure Boon To Cashbox, Claim

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16—The moviemakers are sick over the skimpy boxoffice returns these days—and so moviegoers are going to have to watch a lot of pictures next year in which the stars portray invalids.

It's an old tried and true dramatic formula. Suffering, like a death scene, always boosts an actor's cinematic stock. People like to sob, and tears in the theater mean more dough in the cashier's cage.

Throughout "Sorry, Wrong Number" Barbara Stanwyck is confined to bed except when she rises twice and stumbles a few steps.

Alan Ladd is healthy until he meets sudden death in "One Woman," but you might recall that the deformed hand which he affected in "This Gun For Hire" helped him to stardom.

Jimmy Stewart currently is impersonating Monty Stratton, the great baseball pitcher who lost a leg in an unfortunate hunting accident.

Ever since Monty Woolley coasted to fame in a wheelchair in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," the rolling rocker has frequently held the entertainment spotlight.

A VETERAN stage and screen actor named Howard Free man has probably the best role in "One Woman," rolling through the entire picture in a wheelchair.

Olivia DeHavilland's portrayal as an insane woman in "The Snake Pit" and Jane Wyman's masterful performance as a deaf mute in "Johnny Belinda" have been acclaimed as Hollywood's two best acting jobs in years.

James Mason was lame in "The Seventh Veil." So illness is becoming a vogue again in Hollywood. Every studio story department is digging through its old files for similar foolproof fiction. The most popular phrase in movietown today is: "Let's sit this one out!"

$62 Million Paid For Highway Use

COLUMBUS, Dec. 16 — Highway travelers paid the federal government more than $62 million in taxes last year for the use of state thoroughfares.

The figures were released today by J. Russell Lloyd, secretary of the Ohio AAA Automobile clubs and were compiled by the national highway users conference.

Figures showed that the one and a half cent federal gasoline tax brought in a total of over $23,300,000 to the federal treasury in 1947. Taxes on tires, parts and oil made up the remainder of the sum.

Ohio Grange Reelects Fichter As State Master

CLEVELAND, Dec. 16 — The curtain was to be brought down on the 76th annual convention of the Ohio Grange in Cleveland today after Joseph W. Fichter was re-elected state master for the 1949-50 term.

L. J. Tabor, past national and state master of the association, read the results at yesterday's session of the convention.

Dellos Worley of Lebanon and Ross K. Lawrence of Co-shooton were elected overseer and lecturer, respectively.

Other officers for the 1949-50 term were to be named today at the closing session.

The delegate body also is expected to adopt resolutions establishing the Grange policy for 1949.

Bitter argument is expected on whether to support the present law calling for a sliding scale range from 60 percent to 90 percent of parity on selected commodities or advocate enactment of a new law calling for straight 90 percent parity on all farm products.

Governor-Elect Frank J. Lausche and Ohio Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton greeted the Grange members last night at the annual banquet.

"Our country is a nation of organizers," said Mrs. Bolton. "We love company, folks to share our troubles and we like to tell the world what we think. The Grange is one of the finest of these organizations."

"Keeping for all Americans the right of 'peaceable assembly' is one of the duties of our farmers. Remember, there is no Grange in Russia because there is no right to organize."

EVEN OLD CANDLES USED

Demonstration Agent Gives Christmas Tips

Genevieve Alley, Pickaway County home demonstration agent, has submitted a list of timely household hints for the holiday season. In the list are outlines for decorations recipes and a few gift suggestions.

She suggests Pine cones or blocks of wood dipped in copper sulfate solution and dried make a beautiful blue flame when burned in an open fireplace.

According to Miss Alley crumb crust pies are very popular for the pot luck meals. She said almost any type of crumbs can be used — left over dried cake, graham cracker, ginger snap, vanilla, lemon, or chocolate wafers, zwieback, rusks and soda crackers. Flaked cereals also can be used. Fat, butter or other fat, is used as the binding agent. Sometimes egg white is used in addition to the fat. If it is added the crust must be baked a short time to set the egg.

If the crumbs aren't of the sweet type sugar is added along with the flavoring and fat. This mixture is patted into the pie plate or other shallow container. The crust needs to be thoroughly chilled before the cooled filling is added.

THE FILLINGS may be of the chiffon or cream pie type or ice cream is used. The crumb crust is patted into the refrigerator tray and hardened in the freezer unit. Semi-hard ice cream is packed into the crust, then the pie is frozen until solid.

Dried and fresh fruits instead of large quantities of candy will help make the holidays more enjoyable for youngsters. She added "It just ruins things to get sick from too much rich food."

Jars of jellies and jams, boxes of cookies and cakes made excellent Christmas gifts. The jelly and jam jars can be dressed as Santa Claus by using white cotton, red ribbon, and gum drops.

Old, partially burned candles may be melted and molded into various shapes to use in making holiday decorations.

Lemon juice or hydrogen peroxide will help remove stains on the hands acquired from the extra house work involved in getting ready for the holidays.

This treatment should be followed by applications of glycerin or lanolin in some form. This will help the hands be in good condition for the holiday festivities.

Services Set For Oil Scandal Headline Figure

WASHINGTON, C. H., Dec. 16.—Funeral services for Mal S. Daugherty, headline figure in the Teapot Dome oil scandal during the '20s, are to be held here at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Daugherty, 66, died Tuesday night at a rest home after a stroke.

The Fayette County banker fled his hometown in 1924, at the height of a U. S. Senate investigation into the California oil dealings, and successfully avoided a Senate subpoena ordering him to appear on contempt charges.

The charges grew out of his refusal to permit the Senate investigating committee to look at the books of the Midland Bank, of which he was president. The committee was attempting to investigate reports that some of the money involved in Teapot Dome had been deposited there.

Although he escaped federal prosecution for any part he may or may not have had in the oil deal, the bank folded as a result of the scandal.

The Missus "Ducks" Out

Slim Hartman took his missus duck hunting the other day. And after five hours of sitting in a swamp, she'd had enough! Going home, Slim reminded her good-naturedly of the time she'd taken him to a woman novelist's lecture, and insisted that he sit it out.

So now the missus and Slim have an understanding. No more duck hunting for her—no more lectures for him. They decided each to his own taste.

It's because they can agree to disagree like that, I think, that Slim and the missus get on so well—content to stay home nights together, enjoying one another's company over a glass of beer and a game of chess.

From where I sit, we can't all enjoy the same things—but we can share those little pleasures that we do enjoy—a glass of beer, a game of chess, some music on the radio—and live-and-let-live when it comes to the others.

Pope Receives Italy President: Talks Peace

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 16.—Pope Pius XII called for renewed Italian efforts in behalf of a European federation today when Einaudi in state audience.

The reception was viewed as formal Vatican "recognition" of the two-year old Italian Republic.

The Pontiff stressed Italy's Roman and Christian past and its geographic position "at the crossroads of three human races which makes it seem a haven for the fraternal linking of peoples into a single family."

The Pope lamented the fact that "the times are still turbulent" while "the deep wounds of a tremendous war still are unhealed and people everywhere still are worried and oppressed by the uncertainties of tomorrow."

His holiness expressed hope that peace "which for so long has been almost an exile from the earth may return to live among people, banishing the hate and rancors still tormenting humanity."

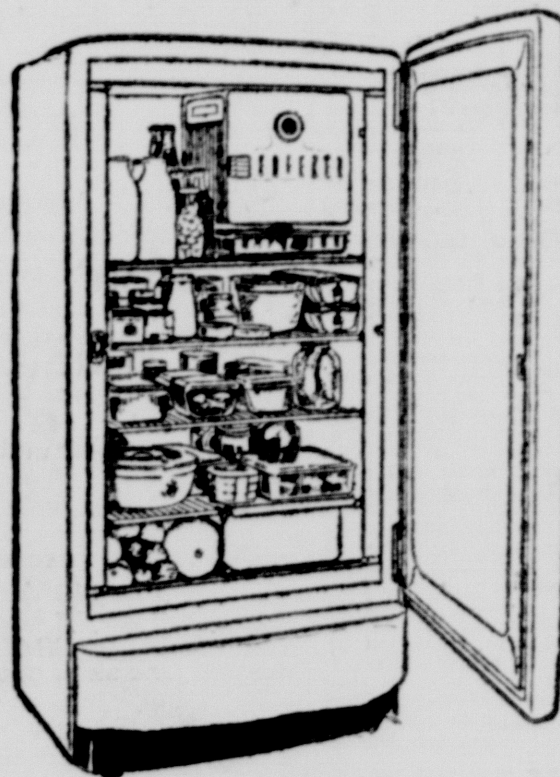

About 75 cents out of every dollar spent by the government for health goes for hospitalization, 23 cents for public health work and two cents for maternal and child health services and aid to crippled children.

A conviction on charges of misapplication of funds set the pattern for the ostracism Daugherty was to suffer the rest of his life.

Although he did not go to jail because an appeals court ordered a new trial which never occurred, Daugherty was shunned by his neighbors.

The one-time dynamic, colorful financial figure, who had kept one jump ahead of the Senate sergeant-at-arms in his flight from prosecution, two weeks ago became the ward of Prosecutor Clark Wickensimer, who was appointed his guardian at the request of Daugherty's son, Ellis. Until he entered the rest home three weeks ago, Daugherty had lived in the home of a Negro family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Easton.

He will be entombed in the Daugherty family mausoleum here.

DEFENSE IS FORTE

Tigers Set To Tangle With Lions In Loop Tilt

Circleville Tiger cagers will make their debut in South Central Ohio League competition Friday night in Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Undeafed to date, the Tiger team will be looking for its fourth win when the Washington C. H. Blue Lion quintet invades for the league opener.

So far this season, the CHS'ers have had little trouble during the season opener, following it up with a 35-17 win over Grove City and registering an easy 52-18 win over University Tuesday.

Their Friday opponents are not expected to be such easy prey, however, the Lions having dropped a tough Dayton Wilbur Wright team in its opener and topped Bexley 50-28. They have lost twice to date though, dropping their SCO opener to Hillsboro 46-29 and losing last Saturday to Findlay 53-36.

THE LION OFFENSE will be spearheaded by Frelan VanMeter at forward, Dick O'Brien at center and Bob Craig at guard, all to date equally valuable in attack.

Circleville's forte this season lies in its defensive might. The shifting zone defense has held opposition offenses down to but 66 points in three games.

Although its high-gear defense is expected to hold the Tiger away from out-size defeats during the season, the final touch is added by Jack Young, high scoring Tiger center.

The Circleville offense, sporting equally fine scoring abilities from Tom Eveland and Ralph Starkey and Don Cook, is concentrated around Young in his pivot post.

So far the Red and Black offensive has clicked to the tune of 134 points in the three encounters, an average of 44.8 points per tilt.

Tiger reserves will be eyeing their third win in four starts Friday when it meets the Blue Lion Juniors.

The local junior team dropped its season opener against Chillicothe's subs, but have added the next two tilts on the positive side of the ledger for a .66 percent record to date.

Game time for the reserve tilt is scheduled for about 7 p. m., followed by the varsity clash at about 8 p. m.

The 32 piece "B" portion of the Circleville high school band will be on hand at the game to provide music for the fans under direction of Truman Eberly.

Louis Take Good In Exhibitions

$300,000 Already Jingle In Coffers

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 — Joe Louis could become a millionaire boxing only exhibitions.

According to figures disclosed today by Harry Mendel, who has handled the heavy-weight champion's tour, the gross has amounted to more than $300,000 and Louis' end of the swag is about $100,000.

He still has one more date before he quits to spend the holidays in Chicago and attend the New Year's Day Rose Bowl game in Pasadena.

He will appear in Lewiston, Me., Dec. 20 to fulfill a date which he was forced to cancel on Nov. 5 because of a severe cold. Incidentally, that exhibition was the only cancellation for Louis in his 13 years of ring warfare.

He is scheduled to meet Pat Comiskey in Paterson, N.J., this evening in an encore of his opening bout on the tour. He and Comiskey drew $27,000 in Washington last September.

Browns Prep For Title Tilt

CLEVELAND, Dec. 16 — The defending Champion Cleveland Browns were to go through two more rugged practice sessions today and tomorrow in preparation for their championship game with the Buffalo Bills in Lakeland Stadium Sunday.

The Browns, western division champs, and the Bills, eastern division winners, are expected to be in top shape for the clash.

The Bills, who have won eight and lost seven over the season, have not established such an outstanding record because of injuries throughout the season, according to Coach Red Dawson.

All-America Conference May Be Nearing Collapse

CLEVELAND, Dec. 16 — The most explosive confab in the brief history of the All-American Football Conference begins here tomorrow when league magnates decide what to do with their future.

Start of the important executive session will precede by two days the AAC's third championship game, in which the Cleveland Browns battle the Buffalo Bills, whom they defeated twice during loop play earlier this season.

This contest will occur Sunday afternoon in Municipal Stadium on the shore of Lake Erie.

The game is for the league title, and certainly there will be a championship to be won. By game time, however, there is just the smallest possibility that there won't be any conference.

Heavily outgunned by its entrenched rival, the National Football League, the All-America, if it wishes to continue, must:

1. Scare up some fresh money.
  2. Relocate a probable minimum of two of its franchises.
  3. Pacify insurrectionists in its own midst.
- That is a large sized order. Only two AAC clubs, San Francisco and Cleveland, may be

'Wet Grounds' In Coliseum Cancel Game

Salt Creek Township and Laurelville school basketball fans were disappointed in Fairgrounds Coliseum Wednesday when the varsity tilt was called because of "wet grounds".

Referee Tom Young and Gilbert Stout declared the court was "too dangerous to continue play" following a slashing game between Salt Creek and Laurelville reserve teams.

The floor, apparently due to warm weather, had developed a coating of moisture, practically turning the court into a skating rink. Lack of a constant temperature in the Coliseum was claimed by officials as cause of the condensation.

Salt Creek juniors literally "fell" before the Laurelville reserves in the preliminary tilt, losing the encounter 18-17.

Salt Creek is scheduled to travel Saturday night for an encounter with Kingston.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 16 — Mike Peppe, Ohio State's swimming coach, will take a group of his swimmers and divers to an aquatic clinic at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., during the Christmas holidays.

The group will leave here tomorrow and will include several freshmen and sophomore mermen.

The New York Social Register has just come out in its 1949 edition. . . and a lot of people who used to be in Chapter One aren't even in the Appendix. This is the "Blue Book" that tells people whether they're in society. . . or if they're out in the cold with only about 142 million common Americans. You can be born into it, or marry into it, but if the editor thinks you don't belong you can be dropped quicker than a hot anvil. The register is required reading for all New Yorkers with social ambitions. It tells them whom they can speak to, which is mighty convenient if you're not able to make up your own mind.

Ralston-Purina Yule Dinner To Honor 17 Employees

7 Slated For 15-Year Awards

225 Expected At Friday Fete

The Ralston-Purina annual Christmas dinner party to be held at 6:30 p. m. Friday in Memorial Hall will honor 17 employees who have achieved safety and service records with the company.

More than 225 employees and wives are expected to attend the feast that will feature turkey with all the trimmings, minstrel-type program sponsored by the workers and an after-dinner dance.

A. Vaden Couch, general manager of the Ralston-Purina Circleville plant, said seven awards will be given for 15-year service with the company. Two 10-year-awards will be made along with six five year awards and two truck driver safety awards.

To receive the 15-year awards are Jim Cook, Bill Curry, Chester Starkey, Bill Morris, Walter Eccard, Lou Jenkins and Howard Cook.

Ten-year-awards will be made to Charles Rader and Edwin Bach.

GLENN WEILER, Floyd Stonerock, Ray O'Neal, Pearley Kuhn, Galen Kearns and Arthur Pettit are slated to receive the five-year-awards, Couch said.

Truck driving safety medals will be given Ray O'Neal and Harry Shell. Last year O'Neal drove 47,402 safe miles bringing his five-year total to 249,361 accident free miles.

Last year Shell drove a total of 46,204 accident free miles, company records reveal.

Teen Tips

When Girl invites Boy to a school, club or sorority dance, who pays for what? A high school girl asks:

"I am planning to attend a formal dance in a few weeks and am going to ask a boy. Would you please explain what I should do? That is, what things am I supposed to pay for? The tickets, taxi, snack afterward, etc?"

Tell him about the dance at least two weeks in advance, because a formal involves special clothes, money for a corsage, etc. Give him all the "when" and "where" details, adding, "It will be fun if you can go as my guest." This lets him know that you will be responsible for buying the tickets and making arrangements to exchange dances with other girls and boys. (It's bad manners to dance every dance with the same partner.)

Buy the tickets in advance and jot down the names of people who agree to exchange partners for a dance.

Boy is your guest, but he's also your escort, so he provides a corsage if possible and if they are customary at your school. He also makes arrangements for transportation to and from the dance. If he can't use the family car he can try to make plans to go along in the car of another couple. If this is impossible it's OK for you, the hostess, to make arrangements to go with another couple who are driving. Otherwise the local bus is the answer. If your escort suggests a taxi, that's fine. But taxi fares are beyond the allowances of many boys, so don't mention it unless he does, and don't offer to pay for it, because it wouldn't be permissible and would give him the wrong impression.

Some boys say they'd rather take girls to a dance in the bus than be driven by her mother or father in their car, so perhaps it would be better not to suggest this unless he knows your parents very well. The boy should pay for an after-the-dance snack so it's up to him to suggest it, not you.

Frau Testifies In American Murder Case

MARBURG, Germany, Dec. 16.—A German housemaid is to resume her eyewitness account today of the slaying of an American GI after he and his wife fought a bloody quarrel.

The wife, Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo of Malden, Mass., faced a possible death sentence if she is convicted of the slaying of her husband, Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliath, Tex.

The Ybarbos' 27-year old German maid, Lieselotte Tessner, had the court trying Mrs. Ybarbo in breathless silence as she told of seeing the 23-year-old mother fire one shot and heard Ybarbo groan.

Frau Tessner said she later heard two more shots and when she returned to the scene she saw Ybarbo lying near the kitchen door with Mrs. Ybarbo kneeling beside him holding a pistol. She identified a gun presented by the prosecution as the death weapon.

Frau Tessner was the first eyewitness to testify in a case in which an American is being tried for a capital offense under German law. If Mrs. Ybarbo is found guilty she is liable to death by beheading.

THE GERMAN housemaid said before the shooting she entered the Ybarbos' bedroom to find a bloody scene.

Frau Tessner said: "I saw Mrs. Ybarbo lying on the bed, wearing a white slip and white brassiere. Sgt. Ybarbo was at the bedside in slacks and shirt, and his nose was bleeding freely."

She continued that Ybarbo shouted to her: "Look at my nose, she hit me back."

Frau Tessner said the battling followed a party in the Ybarbo's apartment in Fritzler barracks. She said she was entertaining Corp. Lee V. Jacobs of Rison, Ark., in the Ybarbo's nursery at the time.

Earlier, she said, another German maid, Elfriede Krummel, entertained two other GI's whom she identified as Corp. Morris Burr of Gouverneur, N. Y., and Pfc. Paul K. Johnston of New Canton, Ill.

Mrs. Ybarbo, a pretty brunette with a six-year old son, listened to this testimony in silence, her face pale and her features grave. Her attorneys have contended the shooting was in self-defense.

Few Strikers Back On Jobs

COLUMBUS, Dec. 16.—Officials of the American Zinc Oxide Co., plant her said today that "a few" striking CIO workers responded to a "work-or-be-fired" ultimatum.

Supt. William T. Maidens said that the remainder of the strikers would be replaced. Although there have been several acts of violence at and near the plant, all was quiet this morning. The strike scene has witnessed four clashes involving striking members of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union and non-striking employees.
